SUMMARY

I like to create websites and web applications. It allows me to realize my thoughtful idea, feel free, be creative and see the fruits of my work. At this moment I'm feeling at ease in areas such as HTML, CSS, and basic JavaScript. However, I proceeded to continuously improve my skills. Also, I'd like to take my next steps to gain practical experience, build real projects, learn from more experienced developers and be part of a community whose goal is to develop members as developers and create new things that make life better for everyone, everywhere. So, look at my projects and get in touch with me. I'm always ready for new challenges!!!
